

FUN BASEL Vol VII Speakers - Launchlabs Basel – 22 June 2017

Steve Rocco

Steve is a Finance professional with diverse work experience across a wide range of areas including traditional capital markets and SME finance. He is passionate about investments that make an impact for our societies. Sustainability is important to him and a word he uses often. He co-founded and worked at Mission Markets in New York, a pioneering Fintech Startup focused on raising capital for impact companies and funds. He said that he has fucked up so many times that it will be difficult to decide which story to share. Knowing his unique combination of family roots and industry experiences from different places around the globe his story will definitely have interesting insights for all of us. He understood that life cannot always be taken too seriously and seeing the humorous side of life allows us to learn.

Sabine van 't Hart

Born in the Netherlands, growing up in Australia, finding the love of her life in Italy, now living in Switzerland, Sabine's home is where her heart is. 'Cookie monster' was her nickname at university during her Master of Science in Management studies. She had therefore never expected to leave her marketing career at Procter & Gamble to become a health coach! After seeing her family struggle with their health, she changed careers and started her health coaching business 'Puricious'. Through learning about the impact food has on our health, she became passionate about coaching her clients to better eating habits and more self-love. Sabine helps her clients to start listening to their body to understand its unique needs. In order to help her clients feel vibrant, she developed a 360-degree coaching model that combines nutrition and emotional healing. Her mission is to BOOST YOUR ENERGY so you can fully enjoy life! Life is now! Take your chance to feel good in your 'home', your body, your most precious asset!

Andreas Erbe

Andreas is an innovation consultant and coach specializing in work environments. He was one of the founders and driving forces behind the Swisscom BrainGym, a creative workspace for customer experience driven projects. Over the course of his career he has particularly enjoyed working on agile, space-related projects at big Swiss and international companies like Swisscom, Accenture or Audi and the Innovationspark Nordwestschweiz, amongst others.

Andreas work experience covers a wide range of assignments across industries working in Europe, the US, Saudi Arabia or the Philippines. Most recently he received a master degree in workspace design from the University in Madrid and the Royal College of Arts in London. He has trained, coached and worked with well over 1,000 managers across all levels in the field of design thinking and decided four years ago to found launchlabs in Basel to pursue his passion for creating spaces for innovation.
